Figures Look A Little Better

While Andover will still be out a good half a million dollars in its Cherry Sheets, indications are now that much of the remaining $900,000 feared lost in state reimbursements may still be forth coming.

School Business Manager Edward Maguire reported Tuesday night that Andover's recently reported loss of $1.4 million in reimbursements, was due in part to a filing error made here, and that the State Department of Education and the Bureau of Audit appear willing to recompute.

However, he said, $500,000 in transportation and Chapter 70 reimbursements are lost, no matter what, "and there's not much we can do about it."

Chapter 70 funds are sort of "residual" — what's left after Chapter 766 takes its piece of the pie.

Andover actually expended $980,000 in Fiscal 1975-76, he said, but due to a clerical error, submitted that we were due to $576,000. That's an offset of $310,000 for next year, he said.

He said the Department of Education has reviewed the matter and has agreed to recompute Andover's entitlement, based on the corrected figures, and also use those figures as a basis for revising the reimbursements for 1977-78.

"In essence," he said, "that means they agree it was a mistake and the numbers that we were to receive actually are out of line with what we have received in the past.

Andover's position is further strengthened, he said, by the fact that an audit of the 1973-74 budget a year ago has made them very familiar with Andover. As a result of that audit, he said, instead of us owing the state $90,000, they gave us back $180,000.

The state doesn't want to recalculate for a few towns right away, he said, because the legislature may be adding money to the governor's request for state aid. If the legislature adds any amount, he said, all figures will have to be recomputed by law, and Andover's would be based on the corrected return.

If the legislature does not add to the governor's request, they will recompute for some towns. Andover could be one.

The real dilemma, he added, is not what the odds are, but where they're going to get the money.

He said Andover should be recouping approximately 50 percent of the money which is part of our entitlement. The remainder will probably be picked up next year.

School Board Chairman David Ahouse noted that the filing error in Andover was compounded when the error was missed by the computer on Beacon Hill. No matter how you cut it, he said, the budget is hit with a loss of $500,000 in reim-

Tax Rate Hike $5-$9

Optimistically, Andover's tax rate could jump between $5 and $6 this year, but on a more pessimistic note the increase could be as much as $9.

That is the current prospectus on the tax situation as the selectmen and finance committee continue their final budget and special article evaluations this week.

The selectmen and FinCom met for about four hours Tuesday night reviewing the items in what was considered a distinctively progressive meeting of the two boards.

FinCom will be making its final review on Saturday, prior to issuing its recommendations and forwarding the annual FinCom report to the printer next week.

Mrs. Poore Chairman

By Linda S. Corbett

The quest for the selectmen chairmanship was resolved with little ado Monday night as Rookies Al Cole and Ed Harris and Outgoing Selectman Alan French joined Susan Poore to put her in the driver's seat.

The quartet also voted Cole vice-chairman and Harris secretary, while Selectman Richard Bowen, who had hoped for the chairmanship himself, voted "present" on all three offices.

French, the ranking selectman in terms of service, wielded the gavel for the reorganization part of the meeting, then sat back for his last session in office. He announced last week that he was resigning, two years into his second term, and his resignation was effective Tuesday.

An appointee for the remaining year of French's term will be named some time after Town Meeting.

Bowen moved that the record show an expression of gratitude to French for his service to the town, a gesture to which

French in turn offered a "thank you."

"There could be flowery speeches," Mrs. Poore told the audience, "but I don't think you came for that."

And with that she proceeded down the agenda to the item that most of the two dozen or so residents had come for a request that consideration of the access road to the Fish Brook Pumping Station from Brundrett Avenue be permanently

Personnel, School Calendar On Agenda

The Andover School Committee will meet again Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Stowe School, in order to act on personnel for next year by the April 15 deadline.

Also on the agenda will be discussion of next year's school calendar, first pass at a direction letter, suggestions for a citizen committee to study declining school enrollments and further budget review.

One possible suggestion for the calendar is that school start the day after Labor Day, bringing the teachers in the last two days of the previous week.

Another is that one of the school vacations be shortened to a long weekend.

Barber Steve Missed From First Chair

Selectman Richard Bowen Monday night moved that a letter be sent to Steve Balasano, formerly Steve the Barber of Main Street, to wish him well in his retirement. Bowen said he missed seeing Steve in the prestigious first chair.

He also suggested they wish the new proprietor, Joe, the best of luck.

In the same spirit, Bowen moved that the Town Manager compliment the Malden Bank on "the tasteful and considerate manner" in which they developed the branch at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets, "and to wish them well without expressing any favoritism over other banks."

Food Service Workers Sign Contract

Members of the Andover Schools' Food Service Association and the school committee signed a new two-year contract Monday night that gives the workers a 5 percent across the board increase next year and 6 percent in 1978-79. Managers will get a one-time, flat $2 increase in September to bring them more in line with their responsibilities.

Another addition to the new contract is a $15 uniform allowance payable at the end of the year.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert, said Committeeman Joseph Finn, who had been negotiating with the workers, reported they had given him lots of "food for thought."

"Did he give you lean proposals?" Seifert asked.

The Day That The Rain Comes Down

The selectmen Monday night approved a request from Center Merchants to close Main Street from Elm Square to Punchard Avenue Friday, June 24, and Saturday, the 25th, for the Annual Andover Bazaar Days.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said that a rain date is never set for the bazaar, though it almost always seems to rain on the event.

The entire Municipal

Parking lot will also be closed for bazaar rides and amusements.

Meanwhile, the selectmen granted a one-day, all alcoholic beverage license for a St. Robert Bellarmine Parish function at the Christian Formation Center April 30, and a Sunday Entertainment License to the Andover police relief association for a concert at East Jr. High May 15.

Students Eager To Join Committee

Veteran Student Advisory Council Member Susan Bacicki Tuesday night introduced SAC members who have been assigned to the school committee for next year. Louise Mirisola, Beth Moynihan, Anne Moriarty and Arthur DeFusco couldn't wait till fall to see what goes on, Susan said.

School Chairman Dave Ahouse noted that the committee would make room at the "head table" for at least one SAC member in the future.

Neighborhood Schools In Tact For '77-'78

By Linda S. Corbett

Shawsheen School — in fact all neighborhood schools and their districts — will remain in tact next year, despite declining enrollments.

Reacting to a recent proposal by former Committeeman Frank Griggs that Shawsheen be phased out over the next two years, the committee went on record 5-0 against any action which would disrupt the six elementary schools or their boundaries next year.

The committee then voted for a Casimir Kolaski suggestion that a citizen committee be set up to study declining enrollments and recommend action for the future, and directed the administration to propose details for such a committee at next Tuesday's meeting.

Kolaski, himself a Shawsheen parent, said he felt it was appropriate "to assure the people that we'll think first and act second."

He said he wanted to see the committee process begin within the month with a report and recommendations for action sometime during the summer.

Chairman David Ahouse noted that the committee will have to make a decision by October or November, before budget deliberations begin next year.

Ahouse said he could see some merit in better use of facilities, but said it was out of place to do anything with Shawsheen School for next year. There are many more options, he said, "and it's fair to let those people know."

A Kolaski concern for "reliable population projections" was quickly disputed by Colleague Joseph Finn, who felt they could "put a lot of faith" in the figures that Griggs and Ahouse had brought forward over the years.

"They have been very reliable," Finn said. "We should be looking at what to do to solve declining enrollments and not get tied up for months in a numbers game."

Committeeman Elaine Viehmann added that she felt "very secure about the numbers, but anxious about a decision."

"We need to be into it," she said, "because whatever we're going to do will take time to implement."

Ahouse felt the study committee should include at least one school committee and one central office representative, possibly a principal, but with a "preponderance of townspeople."

Griggs' proposal at his last meeting suggested that Shawsheen be cut down to one class per grade next year by redistricting the excess youngsters to other schools, and that all youngsters be dispersed the following year. In the meantime he recommended moving administrative offices now housed in Stowe and Jackson schools to Shawsheen before September, closing down those two old, costly buildings.

Traditional Program Increased

The traditional program got another boost Monday night as the school committee voted to provide two classes each for kindergarten through Grade 5 next year at West Elementary School. Grade 6 will remain with one room.

New Chairman David Ahouse was the lone vote against the move, contending that present enrollment numbers for some grades are not sufficient for two traditional classes under staffing patterns established by the committee. The staffing Committee policy sets a ratio of one teacher per 20 pupils in ratio will be inconsistently low, he said, compared to most of the contemporary classes elsewhere in the system.

GOP Committee Meets Tuesday

The Andover Republican Town Committee will meet at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn on Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. Guest speakers will include Edward King who is interested in the Governor's race, William Sawyer who will oppose Congressman Tsongas, Michael Robertson who ran for the U. S. Senate in 1976 and State Senator William Saltonstall. The surrounding Republican Town Committees have been invited, and the public is also cordially invited to meet and discuss issues with the prospective candidates.

kindergarten; 1:23 in Grades 1 through 3; and 1:25 in Grades 4 through 6, but allows some flexibility.

With two classes per grade, traditional ratios will be 1:21.5 in kindergarten; 1:22.5 in Grade 1; 1:20, Grade 2; 1:19, Grade 3; 1:20, Grade 4; and 1:20.5, Grade 5. Administrators don't believe net figures will vary much before September.

Committeeman Joseph Finn, who sponsored the motion, agreed that the traditional classes would fall below the set patterns, but said they wouldn't be inconsistent with what is happening in other schools in the system. In fact, he said, the staffing ratios will be close to those at Shawsheen.

Ahouse called Shawsheen an "unfortunate choice" for comparison since, he said, that school has the highest per pupil cost because of declining enrollment — a problem a special citizen committee may be set up to study.

Ahouse was particularly uncomfortable with the traditional third grade, which would have a ratio of 1:19. He felt 1:20 was the minimum acceptable, though he admitted it was a "judgment call."

George Ploussios of the Traditional Parent Advisory Committee said the committee should "bend over backwards a little for the traditional program." These parents have demonstrated their sincerity, he said, by uprooting their children from their neighborhood schools, and he said it would be "unconscionable" to vote against two classes per grade in all but sixth grade.

Ahouse countered that the intent of the committee was to maintain a consistent policy throughout the system as nearly as possible. Unfortunately, he said, "I believe the committee is being pushed into setting a precedent for any new program that might come up."

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert introduced another alternative — the split grade — which he called a "very acceptable grade structure within a school... going back to the one-room school-house," but which appeared to get little committee attention.

Committeeman Alan Doerr said he felt a ratio of 1 to 19 was "sound" in the third grade and Casimir Kolaski noted that above anything, he was "trying to be compassionate." Elaine Viehmann said that aide adjustments would help make the classes more consistent next year.

The three joined Finn's vote for two classes in all but sixth grade where 37 youngsters are enrolled so far. Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said they'll try to handle the overload.

The staffing policy allows the addition of one aide for every four pupils above the set ratio, and the subtraction of an aide for every four pupils under the ratio.

A group of students at Andover West Junior High school recently completed the construction of a greenhouse in school's interior courtyard.

The greenhouse is an original design developed at Fitch State College. John Fawcett, a recent graduate of the college, directed the modular construction in the industrial arts department. The greenhouse is now in a permanent location in the courtyard.

Over the years, the Swarthmore Courtyard has been maintained and beautified by students as part of a science unit in Grade 6. A large number of evergreen bulbs and trees have been planted as a practical work for students.

The greenhouse will add a new dimension to student effort. Under the direction of Peter Staples, students will develop a wide variety of flowering vegetable plants from seed. These plants will be used to beautify both the interior and exterior of the school.

The school is interested in using the greenhouse operating on a year round basis. Both the industrial arts and science departments are considered.

Miner In Group At Swarthmore

Daniel Miner, son of Mr. Mrs. Joshua Miner of 42 School St., Andover, is a member of the Swarthmore College Chorus and the Singers, a group of teen chorus members described by director Peter Swing as college's crack vocal ensemble. Miner sings the tenor voice part.

Miner and the other singers recently performed at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia. Guests of composer and Swarthmore alumnus Peter Schickele, the group sang two of his P.D.Q. Bach madrigals during the entertaining event entitled "The Intimate P.D.Q. Bach." Schickele and the singers also performed at Swarthmore.

Miner sang in the first of year's two major productions of the Swarthmore College Chorus. The chorus performed with Museum Strings in Philadelphia in an October concert conducted by William R. Smith, assistant conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra and director of Museum Strings.

constructing a solar heating system to maintain constant temperature during the cold seasons.

Citizens interested and knowledgeable about solar heating systems are requested to contact the school to participate in the development of a small solar system for the greenhouse.

Goldsmith Woodlands Hike Set

What does Fosters Pond and witchcraft have in common? Who was "Old Zach?" Who was Bessie Goldsmith? How big are the Goldsmith Woodlands? Where are these Woodlands located? What did Bessie do with her lands? Can you follow in her footsteps?

These and other questions have answers to be found hiking the Trail of Mystery through the Goldsmith Woodlands on Sunday, April 17 at 1:30 p.m.

The hike through this undulating terrain with its irregular shoreline is sponsored by the local Appalachian Mountain Club committee. The hike leaders are Lee Dodd, Juliette Kellogg and Barbara Coffman. The terrain and the irregular shoreline are managed by AVIS. Participants (the Hardy Boys, Nancy Drew and other famous detectives are welcome) are to meet at the corner of Gould Road and South Main St. Come and be ready to find the answers as well as a good time and new friends. For other details call Barbara Coffman or Lee Dodd.

In 1800, 2.2 percent of the European population lived in cities of 100,000 people or more. By 1900 the world had 11 cities with over one million people. There will be 273 cities with a population of one million by 1985, and 17 of them will have ten million people, Massachusetts Audubon points out.

Kolaski

Beginning Committee Casimir Kolaski became official "champion of open communications" Tuesday night though he retrenched with idea of opening each school committee meeting up general audience discussion.

New Committee Chairman David Ahouse and Committee member Joseph Finn were quick to express concern about "opening the door" too far, losing control of meetings, and that present policy already allows for residents to request to be placed on the agenda regarding a particular topic.

Good news for potential meeting-goers came in another way, however, when the committee agreed to put a time limit on meetings that have recently been going toward wee small hours, and otherwise attempt to offer more interesting fare to the audience.

Kolaski would have liked to add 10 or 15 minutes to the end of meetings, not for committee action, but simply to give residents a chance to come before the board with matters that concern them.

"All of us want open communications," Finn said, went on to express fear that people would short circuit existing procedures for solving problems if they knew they could come directly to the committee.

They might tend to use meetings as a forum for problems that could best be handled at the local schools, the central office, he said, and they would expect the school committee to take action might not be in a position to take.

That, he said, could defeat the good intent of Kolaski's idea.

Furthermore, Finn said, residents can now request in advance to be put on the agenda giving the school committee an opportunity to get back-up information before a meeting.

"We need flexibility," said, "without opening the door entirely."

Kolaski Designated To Champion Openness

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 7, 1977

Beginning Committeeman Casimir Kolaski became unofficial "champion of open communications" Tuesday night, though he retrenched with his idea of opening each school committee meeting up to general audience discussion.

New Committee Chairman David Ahouse and Committeeman Joseph Finn were quick to express concern about "opening the door" too far and losing control of meetings, adding that present policy already allows for residents to request to be placed on the agenda in regard to a particular topic.

Good news for potential meeting-goers came in another way, however, when the committee agreed to put a time limit on meetings that have recently been going toward the wee small hours, and to otherwise attempt to offer more interesting fare to their audience.

Kolaski would have liked to add 10 or 15 minutes to the end of meetings, not for committee action, but simply to give residents a chance to come before the board with matters that concern them.

"All of us want open communications," Finn said, but went on to express fear that people would short circuit the existing procedures for solving problems if they knew they could come directly to the committee.

They might tend to use the meetings as a forum for problems that could best be handled at the local schools or the central office, he said, and they would expect the school committee to take action it might not be in a position to take.

That, he said, could defeat the good intent of Kolaski's idea.

Furthermore, Finn said, residents can now request in advance to be put on the agenda, giving the school committeemen an opportunity to get back-up information before a meeting.

"We need flexibility," he said, "without opening the door entirely."

Ahouse confirmed that residents can now speak. The one ground rule is that they put their request in writing, he said, though a phone call might suffice in last minute some instances. He said he liked the intent of Kolaski's idea, but some reservations about how it could be controlled.

"It is not our intent to throttle discussion from the floor," he added, but said he wanted to make sure people go through the proper channels first.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert added that the procedure is to notify the chairman or the superintendent the Wednesday before a meeting — in writing or by phone — request that a certain topic be put on the agenda.

In addition, Ahouse noted, anyone can speak on any item already on the agenda.

Kolaski agreed to hold back on his motion for a few months "and hope everyone will use the channels available."

Finn said Kolaski could be the communications "champion," and his colleagues when they weren't holding communications open.

Finn also said he would like to see more advance notice of meetings, and to have meetings structured to be more appealing. "You have to have a lot of stamina or endurance to sit from 7:30 to 11:30 or 12 after working all day," he said, and suggested a time limit on meetings, even if it meant having five meetings over a two-month period instead of four.

He also suggested offering more attractive items on the menus.

The chairman said he was very much in favor of curtailing meetings, and the committee voted 5-0 to start no new agenda items after 10:15. Ahouse added, however, that "there will always be exceptions."

In the beefed-up menu line, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said he would like to see a 10 or 15 minute discussion on each agenda of educational issues that have an interest for the public — such as the cutoff date for kindergartners. In addition, he said he would like to see each principal discuss the problems and policies of his school at least once a year.

These would be purely informational items, he said.

Discussing Careers

Mrs. Patricia Sheehan, director of education at Lawrence General Hospital, discusses programs with Andover High students during Health Careers Day. From left, Mrs. Sheehan, Karen Secord, Martha Taft, Phyllis Hotham and Evelyn Itz.

Health Careers Day Held

Most people think of a hospital as doctors and nurses caring for patients, but a hospital is much more than that. Hospital life includes another group of important people who work along with the medical staff, the paramedical workers.

On March 30, more than 100 students from 10 area high schools were introduced to the paramedical aspect of hospital life through a Health Careers Day at Lawrence General Hospital.

This annual event, hosted by the L.G.H. Aid Association for interested high school students, was coordinated by Mrs. Robert T. Haslam.

The students were welcomed to the hospital by Alton W. Noyes, Executive Director of the hospital. Following Noyes' welcome, they heard brief remarks from Douglas B. Allan, director of personnel, Gene Rhese, assistant director of X-Ray, Patricia Sheehan, director of education and Paul Clinton, director of social services; then viewed a slide/tape tour of the hospital and a movie depicting a variety of hospital careers.

Highlighting the day were visits to twelve hospital departments where the students observed everyday activities and talked with members of each department. Groups of 10-12 students were directed through the hospital by Aid Association volunteers. A department head or a department employee was stationed in each department to explain its workings and to answer questions as each group passed through.

After completing their tours, the students returned to Kurth Auditorium for lunch with representatives of the hospital staff. Here they were able to ex-

Mr. and Mrs. Brian R. Chenery

Chenery - Romano

At home in Kingston, N. H., are Mr. and Mrs. Brian Richard Chenery, who were married Feb. 19 in St. Augustine's Church, Andover.

The bride is the former Rosarie Marie Romano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Romano, 4 Sweeney Court, Andover, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chenery of Peabody.

The Rev. Richard Foley officiated at the 1 o'clock ceremony, and guitar music was provided by Brian Testa, with Mary Lanigan at the organ. A reception followed at the Hillview Country Club, North Reading.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of white jersey and Belgian lace with high neckline, long, fitted sleeves accented with Belgian lace, and an A-line skirt attached to a chapel-length train. She wore a finger-tip mantilla of Belgian lace and carried a bouquet of carnations, miniature roses and baby's breath.

Frances Gibson of Kingston, N. H., was matron of honor, wearing a sleeveless gown in burgundy red with a floral patterned jacket which tied at the waist. Wearing similar gowns in pink were the bridesmaids, Dorothy Romano of Andover, Paula Burrow of Lawrence, and Melissa and Maura Chenery of Peabody.

Their headpieces were clusters of cloth flowers and they carried colonial bouquets of carnations and miniature red roses.

Mrs. Romano chose a gown in shocking pink with sheer sleeves for her daughter's wedding, and a corsage of carnations. The groom's mother wore a gown of mint green with a sheer, flowing cape, and carnations.

G. Thomas Gibson of Kingston, N. H., served as best man and ushers were Richard Cuoco of Peabody, Robert Finocchiaro of

A SHAPE TO SUIT INDIVIDUAL PERSONALITIES.

Hair should be an expression of a person's character and should be shaped to compliment his or her bone structure.

Channel 2 Auction Drive Begins

Recording Donations

Mid-March marked the beginning of 8 weeks of Channel 2 Auction Go-Getting by volunteers in our area — to do our share in assuring the success of the station's annual fund-raising event starting June 3. The Andover, North Andover area made an admirable showing last year, despite the fact that an all-out effort for the 12 year old Auction started here, just a few years ago.

This year, Go-Getters — that is, those who are searching for donations for the Channel 2 Auction — are working under the direction of Area Chairman, Mrs. W. David Barrett, 366 Salem Street, Andover. Mrs. Barrett is heading the efforts in Lawrence, Andover and North Andover, and she adds "we have high hopes of going way over and above last years donations of merchandise, services and cash from area merchants and residents. The Channel 2 Auction is the only means of raising the money needed for the day-to-day operating costs of the station and funding of local programs. Grants for National programming do not cover local expenses."

Other than items donated by local merchants, Mrs. Barrett says, there are many ways for local residents to donate to the Channel 2 Auction, such as gifts of genuine antiques, works of art and crafts — a very good opportunity for local painters and craftsmen to have their works seen by a large audience — cash donations, and, of course, through buying items at the Auction which will be televised live, June 3 through the 11th works of art, crafts and antiques have always proven to be among the best moneymakers at the auction, with a stress on quality rather than quantity.

While liquor cannot be auctioned off, by law, Mrs. Barrett says, champagne can be donated for the Art Preview held prior to the Auction at the Prudential Center.

Volunteers are now canvassing businesses in our area for new items, services and money gifts. Mrs. Barrett adds, that while cash of any amount is gratefully accepted, the auction has set a $50 minimum of the worth of donations. "We had to either set a limit, or extend the length of the Auction."

All Auction donationsd are tax deductible — and, like Magic — the theme of this years auction — add up dollar for dollar to the amount needed to run Channel 2. This year the goal is $730,000. In 1976 the Auction made $630,000, and over 1,200,000 viewers watched the auction at one time or another phoning in over 383,000 bids. By giving to the Auction the donor will receive a bargain in return in the form of advertising and publicity, says Mrs. Barrett.

Serving as Team Captains in our area are: Mrs. Carmine DiAdamo, Andover; Mrs.

Kenneth Seifert, Lawrence-Andover; Mrs. Robert Jurgen, Lawrence — Andover; Mrs. Elisabeth Stafford, Lawrence; Mrs. J. F. Bowers, North Andover.

Serving as Go-Getters in our area are: Mrs. Joseph McEnroe, Mrs. Edwin Doyle, Mrs. Frank Kaplan, Mrs. Joseph Schoonover, Mrs. Raymond Nash, Mrs. Mark Weinstein, Mrs. Charles Faust, Mrs. Janis Baron, Mrs. Robert Wise, Mrs. Joseph Kaspar, Mrs. Fred Powers, Mrs. David Ahouse, Mrs. Warren Kappeler, Mrs. Douglas Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Moson, Mrs. Glenn Rogers.

Easter Cantata At Chapel

The Andover Bible Chapel announces that on Easter Sunday morning, April 10, at 11 a.m. the Chapel choir will present the Easter cantata "The Last Week." The cantata is based on the final days of the ministry of Jesus Christ — the greatest life ever lived. It begins with His triumphal entry into Jerusalem and ends with His resurrection, the time covered being one week plus one day. John Peterson, the composer, says of his work, "All that is recorded in the gospels concerning this time could not be dealt with in a single work, but I have sought to trace the main action of each day. The action recorded in these days is swift and convulsive, which makes for high drama."

The Andover Bible Chapel choir, which will perform the work, is under the direction of E.R. Truax of Andover, and is accompanied by Mrs. Philip Parsons, also of Andover. Soloists include Miss Martha Carr of Salem, N.H., Mrs. David Dewhurst of Lawrence, Mrs. Robert Lenes of Andover, and Daniel Carr of Watertown.

The entire program at 11 a.m.

on Easter Sunday, April 10 will be devoted to the cantata performance.

Robert A. Watters will speak at the Easter Sunday evening service at 7 p.m. on the subject "What Does Easter Mean to You?" The public is invited to both services.

Kindergarten Registration

Kindergarten registration will take place at St. Augustine's School during the mornings of April 12 and 13 in the school office. Parents are requested to bring birth and baptismal certificates. Children must be five years old by Jan. 1, 1978 in order to register.

Turningpoint Celebration

Easter will be celebrated in a special way this year at Turningpoint.
 During the weekend, the events of the death and resurrection will be recalled and re-enacted through music, drama, and personal involvement. The weekend will be concluded with a sunrise gathering at Singing Beach in Manchester. The theme for the weekend is "Experience the Resurrection."
 Turningpoint believes that the resurrection of Jesus was a historical and real event and is in fact the most important element to the Christian faith. Not only was the resurrection of Jesus a historical fact, but each individual is able to experience a personal resurrection in one's own life.
 The Easter celebration will begin on Friday evening when Daily Bread will be presented in concert. Daily Bread is a "Christian Band" from Alexandria, Minn. The concert, along with dramatic sketches, will begin at 8 p.m. There will be no admission fee.
 On Saturday evening, April 9, Clay Mitchell, a very talented Christian musician from Oklahoma City will be singing and sharing. Clay is also a "multi-media artist" and will be presenting an original multimedia show, "Below the Line." The Clay Mitchell concert will begin at 8 p.m.
 Throughout the weekend, members of the Turningpoint large wooden cross from Turningpoint to Singing Beach in Manchester.
 On Sunday morning, April 10 a sunrise gathering will be held in Manchester at Singing Beach. Daily Bread will be singing and leading in worship. The celebration will begin at 6:30 a.m. A pancake breakfast will be held at West Congregational Church in Peabody, following the beach service.

Documentary To Be Shown At Church

The basis for making choices and decisions depends on our philosophy and point of view. "How Should We Then Live?" a ten episode film series written and narrated by Francis A. Schaeffer reviews the thoughts and ideas that have and will influence us. Starting with the Roman Age to the Renaissance to the Reformation and finally to the present age Dr. Schaeffer in the film portrays the rise and decline of wesern thought and culture. Each episode while focusing on a significant era, speaks clearly to 20th century man with answers for modern problems. This newly produced film series provides a compelling challenge to be Christians in a secular age.

In simple film language, profound truths are shown in the documentary spectacular. These films were shot in more than 100 locations in 12 countries and took more than 2½ years to make.

The series is being brought to Andover by the Andover Baptist Church where the program will be held. The desire is for all who are seeking and interested should come. Two episodes will be shown each Tuesday for five Tuesdays starting April 12 and ending May 10. The program starts at 7:30 and ends at 9 p.m. There is no charge. For further information call Donald Sorrie, 7 Abbot Bridge Drive.

Women's Guild Meets April 12

There will be a meeting of the Central Catholic High School Marist Women's Guild on April 12, at 7:30 p.m., to be held in the faculty lounge of the new school, 300 Hampshire St., Lawrence.

All members of the guild are requested to be present as an election of officers will take place. Also reservations will be taken for the annual mystery ride to be held on May 10.

Refreshments will conclude the evening. Mrs. Rita Ouellette, president and Bro. Alcide Ouellette, moderator, will preside.

Pari-Fam Plans Underway

The Saint Augustine's Pari-Fam Annual Assembly will be held on Saturday, May 7, at Central Catholic Auditorium. The night will include a cocktail hour, a roast beef family-style dinner, a show and dancing until 1 a.m.

This year's show is being written and produced by Dr. William O'Reilly and Aime Reming and highlights the best acts, skits and songs of the past 14 Pari-Fam shows. Well-known faces from the past will appear in this year's show.

George F. Lannan and Michael J. Lebreck are co-chairing this year's committee and have arranged for an extra hour of dancing and free transportation to and from the assembly for the elders of the parish.

Obituary...

ENA WILKINS

Mrs. Ena (Bothwell) Wilkins, 70, 110 Broadway, Methuen, died Sunday at Lawrence General hospital, following a short illness.

Born in Almonte, Ontario, Canada, she was a retired teacher from the Ridgewood, N. J. school system. She was a graduate of Columbia University.

She was a member and past treasurer of South Church, Andover.

She is survived by a son, Philip B. Wilkins of Newton; four daughters, Mrs. Harold E. Proctor, Jr., Gorham, Maine, Mrs. Otis Shepherd, Danvers, Mrs. William A. Klosowski, Jr., Middleton and Mrs. Corrine W. Staid, Andover and 25 grandchildren.

A memorial service was held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at South Church, Andover.

Memorial contributions may be sent to the South Church Memorial Fund, Central Street, Andover, Mass., 01810.

Grady Spires, professor of philosophy at Gordon College will be the featured speaker in the first of a series of seminars sponsored by Turningpoint Christian Service Center.

Spires will be speaking on the topic of "How a Christian young person relates to a non-Christian family." Many people, particularly the youth, experience a spiritual awakening in their own lives, the experience of being Born Again. At times, the acceptance of a real Christian faith causes some tensions on the home front. Spires will talk about the experience of being Born Again and how a Christian can cope with a non-Christian home.

This seminar should be of interest to those families where one or more members have become Born Again Christians. The seminar will also address the problem of young people leaving their homes to join religious cults.

The seminar will be held on Saturday, April 16 from 1:30 to 3 p.m. This time has been chosen to allow families to attend together. There will be no charge for the seminar and everyone is welcome to attend. Turningpoint is located at 13 Essex St., directly behind the Memorial Hall Library in Andover Center.

Emotional Adjustment To Be Topic

"Emotional Adjustment to Diabetes" will be the topic discussed by Raymond C. Yerkes, M.D. and Anne Hubbard, R.N. at the Merrimack Valley Diabetes Education program meeting, Wednesday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m., to be held at Perkins Lounge, Student Union building (second floor) Merrimack College, North Andover, at the junction of Routes 114 and 125.

Dr. Yerkes, Child and Adult Psychiatrist from the local area, will address himself to emotional situations that often arise in the life of a diabetic, which will be presented to him by Anne Hubbard, president, MVDEP, and teaching nurse. Audience participation is encouraged by questions from the floor, as well as being submitted in writing.

The meeting is free to anyone interested in diabetes. Refreshments will be served

Fidel Interested in Assassination Probe

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — The House investigation of the John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King assassinations has aroused the quiet interest of Cuba's Fidel Castro.

The Cuban leader sent secret word to the assassinations committee recently that his government had information on Lee Harvey Oswald. The committee was urged to contact the Cuban embassy in Mexico City for further details.

The committee got in touch with the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City. Back came assurance that the message from Castro appeared to be legitimate.

But the State Department didn't want to get involved in the negotiations. Instead, the department suggested that the committee establish contact with Havana through Carl Migdail, a Washington correspondent for the U.S. News and World Report.

The committee's former chief counsel, Richard Sprague, got in touch with Migdail, who passed the word to the Cuban Mission at the United Nations. To date, nothing more has been heard from Castro.

Poor Smog Controls: The air we breathe is full of hydrocarbons, lead flakes and asbestos fibers. This makes the air unhealthy; we can get sick from breathing it.

Most of this foul air comes from the exhaust pipes and brake linings of automobiles. This causes the eye-stinging smog we find in many cities.

The Environmental Protection Agency is supposed to protect the nation's lungs from this bad air. Yet it has done little about controlling auto emissions.

This is the conclusion of the General Accounting Office, which has been checking up on the Environmental Protection Agency. We have obtained a copy of the confidential findings.

The report cites seven states as having a serious air pollution problem: Arizona, California, Colorado, Ohio, New Jersey, New York and Utah.

The reason the smog problem isn't improving is simple. The Environmental Protection Agency has been unable or unwilling to remove dirty cars from the road. These cars get dirtier as they grow older.

The confidential report claims that the agency has information about dirty engines in over two million cars and trucks. Yet no move has been made to recall them. The report recommends that old cars be inspected periodically.

The agency is also supposed to inspect new cars as they come off the production line. But no real enforcement effort has been made. Some brand-new Fords, for example, were found to cause four times more pollution than the law allows.

Meanwhile, the poisonous smog is still hanging over our cities.

Suggestion Box: Jimmy Carter is taking the presidency to the people. He has been telling Americans that he wants the individual voice to be heard in Washington.

We've established the National Suggestion Box to help accomplish this. Thousands of ideas have poured in from all parts of the country. The White House has promised to review the best suggestions.

The saddest complaints have come in from the elderly. Our senior citizens seem to be the last in line for just about everything. Hundreds of letters, for example, pointed out the inequities in the Social Security system. This is the only means of support for millions of older people.

Yet several letters pointed out that people on Social Security are penalized for trying to supplement their meager incomes. For every two dollars earned over a certain amount, a dollar is deducted from the Social Security payment.

Ms. Stella Cutone wrote from West Virginia, for example, to complain that the penalty for earning extra money is unfair. She pointed out that "a rich person can invest his money with no limit on the amount of interest he earns."

Ms. Cutone is absolutely right. The unearned income of the rich doesn't affect their Social Security. But the earned income of the poor reduces their benefits.

Our staff spoke to the House Ways and Means Committee about the problem. The Representatives frankly are afraid to change the law. They say it would cost $7 billion to permit Social Security recipients to earn more outside income.

Maybe President Carter will help us straighten out this inequity. Meanwhile, send your ideas to the National Suggestion Box, Box 2009, Washington, D.C. 20013.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Project HEALTHY announced for The Haven is now taking names for a waiting list. The program — a series of seminars — is scheduled for the end of April and the first week in May and will have several different authorities to speak on aspects of health for the older citizen.

The next mini-clinic is set for Chestnut Court April 12 from 2 to 4 p.m. by appointment only. Appointments may be made by calling the Board of Health — not The Haven. 475-6126.

Mini-bus transportation is available Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 to 3:30 for doctor's appointments, etc. Call The Haven well in advance to reserve time so the bus can come pick you up at your home. It will also return you to your home after your appointment. The Haven phone numbers are 475-3968 and 475-4165.

The Haven wagon is available for appointments, shopping, etc. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 2 to 4 p.m. Advance reservation is required.

Every Friday afternoon there is Bingo at The Haven from 2 to 4. Transportation is available if needed.

Every Wednesday morning hairdressing appointments are available at the Votex through The Haven. The mini-bus leaves The Haven at 9 a.m. for the hair appointments.

The Haven is going to have an Open House, May 22 from 3 to 5 p.m. Plan to come and bring your whole family to see the facilities that are available. Remember, The Haven is the town supported drop-in facility for the over-60. citizens and is located at 9 Essex Street in the old Andover Theater building.

An acre of cattail swamp can produce more than thirty tons of flour per year which is thirty to sixty times the production of a good wheat field, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

The Phon-a-thon committee for Andover ABC would like to take this opportunity to thank your newspaper for the excellent coverage given our efforts of March 28-30. We were all very pleased with the response we received from those Andover residents contacted for donations to support the ABC program. The article and picture printed in your paper helped us get our message across.

We would also like to thank the Andover Bank and the BayBank/Merrimack Valley for providing us with such a comfortable working atmosphere for our 70 volunteers. The donations of refreshments and paper goods from Barcelos, McDonalds and Purity Supreme were also much appreciated.

The positive response of the Andover community to the ABC program has been gratifying to all involved in the recent phon-a-thon.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

I hope the educational scene in Andover does not lapse into middle class mediocrity, because if there is no impetus to voice differences and similarities of views and values, there will be no great reservoir of ideas needed to stimulate change.

Differences in Andover seem to revolve around the need for and rate of change in our schools; governance and the role of authority; the changing role of women and minority groups; the acceptance of the notion of child development; the relationship of money to quality education; the parameters used to measure quality education; the relationship of home and school; individual versus collective rights and responsibilities; and the relationship between education and politics.

Topics we never discussed might include: alternative methods of financing education; the notion of equal time for creativity and rote learning in the curriculum; broadening the base of decision-making to include children, teachers and administrators; constantly polling all parents on issues; a Bill of Rights for children; alternative curriculum for gifted children; discipline; and the interrelationship of various child rearing practices and intelligence.

School Year Now To End June 24

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 7, 1977

The last day of school has been as changeable as the weather the past few weeks, and Tuesday night it was moved once again — to Friday, June 24.

The "old" committee voted last month to settle for the lesser hourly requirement set by the state, because making up enough snow days to fulfill the traditional 180-day standard would have meant going to school into the last week of June.

Because Andover's 180-day year far exceeds the number of hours required, they set Wednesday, June 22 as closing day with time to spare.

Selectmen Set Deadline For Applicants

The selectmen Tuesday voted not to attempt to act on filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Alan F. French until after the town meeting in May.

The board has issued a call for applications from townspeople who wish to be considered for the vacancy which will be filled by the remaining four members of the board.

Applicants should set forth qualifications and submit their names to the chairman of the board of selectmen at town hall by Friday, April 22.

The board has also said it will keep the names of applicants confidential until after a screening process at which time only the names of the finalists will be announced.

Monday night, the final session for French whose resignation was effective Tuesday, shook hands with members of the board, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Assistant Manager Sheldon S. Cohen, as he left the meeting after adjournment, wishing all luck in the future.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen told French that he wished the circumstances had been different regarding his leaving the board. Bowen said the board's activity had been enriched by French's presence.

Think Auction Spring Cleaning —

Tired of that clutter in the attic? Donate it to Andover's Fourth Annual Recycling Auction to be held rain or shine on May 14 at 10 a.m. in the Recreation Park.

Items such as furniture, small appliances, sports equipment, and toys are needed to make this auction a success. All proceeds benefit the town.

New features of this years Auction will be consignments and a flea market. Consignments must be valued over $20. You receive 75% of the auctioned price and 25% goes to the town.

The flea market has already attracted several local craftsmen who will rent either a 32" x 8' table for $8 or a card table for $5 on which to sell their items.

Any individual or organization wishing to reserve a table for the flea market should call Lolli Sumberg, auction chairman.

Summer Openings Available

Deadline for application is Friday, April 15.

Old Ironsides

Most famous of "Old Ironsides" victories in the War of 1812 were the Guerrier, the Java, and the combination of the Cyane and the Levant. Saved from destruction by Oliver Wendell Holmes' poem in 1837, and carefully restored in 1927, she is the oldest commissioned ship in the U.S. Navy.

Then snow fell again.

Two weeks ago school was once again cancelled and Monday night Committeeman Joseph Finn pushed for a make-up day, which would move close on to Thursday, June 23 — ironically the original close date listed on the school calendar before Mother Nature and the committee interfered.

Committee consensus, however, was to leave the 22nd alone, or add two days to fill out the week. They chose the latter, by a vote of 5-0.

The original school calendar, ending June 23, included four built-in snow days. Had none been used, school could actually have let out June 17, and still fulfilled the 180-day requirement.

Eight snow days had been used by the time the committee made its last decision, however, and the extra three make-up days would have pushed the year up to June 27. Rather than do that they opted for the less-strict hourly requirement which was established during the energy crisis to allow school systems more flexibility.

Committeeman Elaine Viehmann noted Tuesday night that it has been the committee's intent "for years" to have 180 school days.

"This year that is impossible unless it goes on almost to the Fourth of July," she said. "This is a special year and we're dealing with it in a special way."

She said she would feel better, however, if they went one more day, bringing the total to 177 days.

"If you're going to Thursday," Casimir Kolaski said, "why not go to the end of the week and make it 178 days."

"I hope we don't have another snow day," Seifert quipped, "if you're going to put two back in for every one we lose."

Later in the meeting, Associate Supt. Harry Westcott presented a calendar for next year that will eliminate some of the confusion: it accounts for 180 days only, and doesn't try to predict the unpredictable by building in snow days.

It will be a flat "one for one," Westcott said. For every snow day, one school day would be added at the end of the year.

The committee balked, however, because the straight 180-calendar would have school getting out Tuesday, June 20, 1978.

If there are four or five snow days, Seifert said, "there we are back at the end of June."

He said he felt philosophically that the idea of vacations is losing its meaning, and that people don't observe holidays like they used to. He also sees he said, a trend toward people "getting out of work and getting out of school."

He suggested shortening one of the school vacations to long weekend. Picking up two days, he said, would put the last day of school back into the middle of June.

Committeeman Alan Doerr suggested starting classes on Tuesday following Labor day instead of Thursday, picking up two days there. The teachers, he said, could come back to two day Thursday and Friday of the preceding week.

The entire matter of next years calendar was referred back to the superintendent for further study and a report will be forthcoming at Tuesday's meeting.

Resignation As A Way Of Municipal Life

Resignation from municipal, elected boards seems to have become a way of life in Andover in recent years.

Selectman Alan F. French chose that route last week, following the town election which saw two persons opposed to a particular view named to the board.

It is not so long ago that two school committee members likewise chose to resign somewhat in protest to actions of their colleagues.

We would hope that the practice does not become rampant, nor will the town obtain the reputation of having elected leadership who require the game being played solely their way.

We view Mr. French's resignation as a poor move to the town and to his constituents.

It is true that the town election could be viewed as giving an opinion contrary to his with regard to the tenure of the town manager, which was the prime election issue.

But, we respect Mr. French's views on the matter, to the point that he should have remained to complete his term and maintain the voice of the people he represented.

There is still to be a vote on the manager's tenure, we trust, and although Mr. French may be in the minority, it is still valid that it be heard.

A board sounding of unanimity is not in the best interests of the community.

Until a year ago, selectmen's meetings in Andover were marked by that unanimity, with the election of Richard J. Bowen in 1976 altering the recorded votes on occasion.

There is now the threat, of course, that Mr. Bowen will continue to be a lone dissenting vote on issues bordering on controversy.

Mr. French, of course, initially did not seek re-election in 1975, but was persuaded to run when the field of candidates appeared to be few.

His decision now, based on a more recent decision of the electorate, leaves those who urged his return two years ago with little or no voice. It deprives the board of the insistence of his principles which he vociferously defended on occasion in dealing with some issues.

In essence, by his decision, Mr. French, devoid of colleagues with whom he was generally paired, chooses to walk away from the game because the rules obviously are to be changed.

As such, it is not in the best interests of the town, and, unfortunately continues a practice which, has in recent years, become too common.

Filling The Vacancy

With his resignation effective this week, the remaining members of the board must choose a fifth member.

The board this week decided to set April 22 as the deadline for those who wish to be considered for appointment to the post. The person will serve until the next town election.

When the school vacancies occurred, they were filled by persons uniquely fitted to serve in the situations.

We view the same possibility with filling the French vacancy on the board of selectmen.

There are persons available, who have served in a similar capacity, who are retired and more than likely would be willing to give the time to municipal service once again.

On one occasion the school board vacancy was filled by former member, who simply filled out the term and did not seek election to a full term.

We would suggest that such talent is likewise available to the selectmen at this time and something they should consider as they ponder the selection to be made sometime after the adjournment of the annual town meeting in May.

We do not view action on the replacement of French as being of an urgent nature, due to the safeguards provided within the town manager system of government.

Further we do not view the altering of the makeup of the board of selectmen, by recent vote, as a threat to the town manager system in Andover.

The Lawrence YWCA "Wahoos" will participate in the eighth annual national swimming and diving championships on April 15, 16 and 17 at the Swimming Hall of Fame pool in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

This is the third consecutive year the Wahoos, coached by Andoverite Ed Dowd, will send swimmers to nationals. The local girls have placed fifth overall the past two years and hope to better that record this year.

Co-captains Colleen Dowd and Nancy Pearson came home as national champions in '76 by placing first in the 200 yd. I.M. and the 500 yd. Freestyle respectively. Pearson set a new YWCA record in the process.

Unemployment insurance benefits more than doubled during the 1975 fiscal year, with about $12.3 billion paid to approximately 12.1 million persons, according to the annual report of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Twenty-two girls have met "cut-off" times in order to qualify for the meet which draws teams from across the nation. The following Andover and No. Andover swimmers will represent their team in Florida: Dianne Clendaniel, Colleen Dowd, Linda Fitzgerald, Elizabeth Gass, Eileen and Meghan Hanawalt, Ann Hart, Linda Jensen, Andrea Paradis, Nancy Pearson, Beth and Patti Pelc, Kate Scanlon, Mary Ellen Wesson, Bobbi Wright and Tricia Wright.

The local team has been asked to co-host the meet along with the White Plains, N.Y. "Middies" and the Coca-Cola bottling Co.

Debbie Meyer, former Olympian, will be the guest speaker at the awards banquet on Sunday evening. Debbie started her swimming career at a YWCA and went on to win three gold medals, 22 U.S. records and 20 world records. On Monday evening, the Wahoos have been asked to be special guests at the indoctrination of Mark Spitz, Shane Gould and Debbie Meyer into the National Hall of Fame for Swimmers.

A giant "good luck" send off has been planned for April 13 at 7 p.m. in front of the YWCA at 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence. Mayor Buckley and local dignitaries will be on hand to offer official greetings. The public is invited to come and wish the girls well.

Spring Soccer Season Starts

The Andover Soccer Association announces that the Andover teams which will compete in the Essex County Youth Soccer League of the Mass. Youth Soccer Association are ready to play. Thanks to the generosity of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, Sacred Heart field will be the home field for all scheduled games.

The first games begin the weekend of April 15, with each of the Andover teams playing home and away series with four or five other Essex County towns ranging from Georgetown to Marblehead. While most of the rosters are full at 25 players per team, positions are still open on the under 19 and under 12 teams.

Due to unanticipated interest at the under 10 level the Soccer Association is hoping to establish a special team at this level. This team will not play regular league games but will scrimmage our own under 10 team and will try to scrimmage under 10 teams from other towns on an informal basis. In order to qualify as a player you should be under the specified age as of 1 January 1977.

Any persons interested in playing, or in helping the sport of Soccer in any way are urged to contact Bill Stevens or Dave Amundsen for further information.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team will hold its 1977 tryouts on Saturday, April 16 and Sunday, April 17 from 2-4 p.m. both days at the large Playstead Field behind East Junior High.

Candidates must be between the ages of 13 and 15, and cannot turn 16 before Aug. 1.

The team will play a 24 game expanded regular season schedule in the Greater Lawrence league, plus a number of pre-season and possible playoff games.

Several Andover players will also be selected to the 14-15 year old and 13 year old All-Star tournament teams, both of which have reached the state and/or New England finals over the past two years.

Other G-L league members include North Andover, Tower Hill, South Lawrence West, North Lawrence, Prospect Hill and South Lawrence East.

Plans are also underway for the fourth annual Andover team trip to Montreal, Canada in early July.

Highlights of that trip are several games against Canadian youth teams, attendance at a Montreal Expos game, a visit to the "Man and His World" exhibit, swim sessions and other activities.

Andover has consistently placed among the top four teams in the G-L league. Last year's team was 23-8 overall, and the composite record for the last three seasons is 66-23-1.

Friday Feature Films

The last film in this series, Cool World (1964) will be shown on Friday April 8 at 7:30 p.m. It deals with a group of young black teenagers in Harlem and their attempts to deal with the reality of their lives in the ghetto. This film shows that some of the difficulties they face stem from drugs, crime, the irrelevance of their education, their need for money and the prevalence of guns in their lives. Based on the book by Warren Miller, directed by Shirley Clarke this film was produced by Frederick Wiseman.

Watercolor Display

A selection of watercolors by Evelyn W. Carlson is on display at the Library during April. Ms. Carlson began using watercolors in 1969 and this has remained her favorite medium. Her work has been exhibited at several universities and art shows in the area and she has received numerous awards including two firsts in watercolor and a Best-in-Show Award at the Hamilton-Wenham Show.

National Library Week

Hypnotism, poetry, embroidery, art. All these will be part of the program scheduled in celebration of National Library Week, April 17-23. To start the week there will be a Poetry Reading by Members of the Poetry Lab on Sunday April 17 at 2:30 p.m. On Tuesday a lecture about and demonstration of hypnotism by Jim Knight is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. A reception for artists to mark the opening of the library's original art collection will start at 8 p.m. on Wednesday.

closed to traffic. The question already appears on the town meeting warrant, and following discussion Monday night, the selectmen took it under further advisement.

The warrant article also requests a $5,000 for a parking lot for people who use the adjacent conservation properties.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin noted that Brundrett Avenue residents have repeatedly complained to the selectmen and Traffic Advisory Committee about speeding traffic, vandalism, and general nuisance at Fish Brook Pumping Station.

Last year a cable was put across the end of the street to block off nighttime access to Fish Brook but, Austin said, the chains have been stolen, the posts knocked down and locks smashed.

The road, however, also provides access to AVIS's Deerjump Reservation, conservation land, and the picnic area on the river-side of the Hewlett-Packard plant, and representatives of those groups Monday night objected to closing off of the road so far from their activities.

They agreed that there is a nuisance, but suggested a chain be erected nearer the Pumping Station at the stone wall where AVIS and conservation lands join.

Austin Monday night read a report from the Traffic Committee which said it did not feel the traffic problem is serious enough to require action on their part, and they didn't feel the volume exceeds that which many residents have in other parts of town. They decided instead to go to the state and ask it to survey the road and see if it could be posted.

He said the planning board was on record against closing day. And the final program for the week will be an embroidery demonstration on Thursday morning at 11.

Great Books Discussion Group
The Great Books Discussion Group will meet twice during April. On Tuesday April 12 they will meet to discuss Graham Green's story The Destructors, and on April 26 to discuss Flannery O'Connor's A Good Man Is Hard To Find.

Holiday Hours

The Library will be closed Sunday April 10 for the Easter Holiday and on Monday April 10 for Patriot's Day.

Children's Room News by Ruth Hooten

Flyers are now available in the Children's Room announcing the programs for the April School Vacation. There will be a different program for each day of the vacation week and they will include a visit from the Little Red Wagon, a visit from the Zoomobile, the Disney movie The Sword in the Stone, and a talk by John Allis on bike touring, safety, and maintenance. For the dates and times watch for next week's announcement or drop by the Children's Room for a flyer.

Films on Fridays will not be shown on Friday April 22 but will continue on April 29. For April 8 the films will be The Camel Who Took A Walk, Faroun, The Little Clown, and The Owl and The Pussycat. On April 15 the films will be Andy and the Lion, Blueberries For Sal, and The Owl and The Raven. As usual the films will be shown at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

off the road, feeling it would be difficult to keep the barrier in tact, and noting that importance of convenient access to the pumping station.

Mrs. Virginia Hammond, chairman of the conservation Commission, said the town owns more than 50 acres there, and Brundrett Avenue is one of the best means of access to the whole area. It is "undesirable" to shut off public access and cause "undo hardship on users", she said.

Motorcyclists are going to be there no matter what, she said, and a parking lot at the top of the street would be an "expensive solution that's not going to solve anything."

Dave Beattie, who manages the Deer Jump Reservation for AVIS, admitted a nuisance, and said that if a chain were put up farther down, at the wall, gardeners could still drive near their plots with their equipment.

Gary Stevens, treasurer of the Andover Gardeners, claimed that closing the road to traffic would be "the end of the gardeners." "We wouldn't be able to carry the heavy equipment and fertilizer there," he said.

He said he felt the gardening families — there will be 89 this year — on malcontents and ne'er-do-wells, and that they try to be good housekeepers.

Peter Pingree, a gardener, called not for a barrier but for better police protection, while Jim Cunningham said that at a time when many towns are trying to establish community gardens, it would be a shame to discourage it here.

He said nighttime traffic was unfortunate for "two or three families" who live on Brundrett Avenue, but he said, the gardeners benefit the many families who work there as well as their friends and the nursing homes that receive the excess produce.

Paul Rollins, who lives on Brundrett, talked about accidents, kidnappings, and cars driven into the pond and torched, and said the AVIS land has been "abused beyond reason."

"It's not merely the traffic and nuisance," he said, "but I'm concerned with conservation and preservation of the conservation land itself."

Neighbor Frank Picone said he had no objection whatsoever to the horticulturists or AVIS using the land "for what the place is — or was." What he objects to, he said, is the "flagrant misuse of the area by 'all the elements.'" He said there are beer parties, "even dope being pushed," and the area attracts not only local misfits, but out of state cars as well.

"The gardeners are there only a few days a week," he said. "They can go home."

Selectman French said closing the road would ignore the problem. "The question is, are we going to take care of our investment — these hundreds of acres we bought for the use of our citizens?"

He suggested considering a conservation officer to work with the police and patrol all areas.

Bowen agreed that "how little we have invested in the management of these lands is absurd."

He also said he couldn't believe the respective interests

Chapter Reviews Red Cross Month

During March, Red Cross month, the Greater Lawrence chapter conducted a series of public relations activities to increase local awareness of its programs. This year their aim was to highlight the programs offered to the community and to thank the many volunteers who make the work of Red Cross possible in our communities. Each church in the Chapter's jurisdiction received a letter on Red Cross Sunday expressing gratitude for the participation and assistance received from the congregations. Through the courtesy of Flynn Advertising Company, a dozen billboards in the Greater Lawrence Area recognized Red Cross as the "Good Neighbor." Volunteer leaders in the disaster, service to military families, blood, first aid and water safety programs provided introductory information regarding their programs to WCCM, and these messages were aired periodically throughout the month.

"don't necessarily coincide." "When the right people get distressed enough about a problem," he said, "it gets solved."

All of the communities in the chapter, Andover, North Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, and Salem, N.H. flew Red Cross flags to honor the organization whose symbol indicates mercy and tenderness without regard to race, creed or color.

William F. Lucey, Jr., chapter chairman, indicated that the chapter also engaged in the presentation of information to group and club gatherings and displayed their vehicles and equipment on several occasions. The most pleasing of all of their responses was a proclamation from Mayor Buckley of Lawrence.

John Carroll, the executive director of the chapter was most pleased with the efforts of the chapter in promoting Red Cross month, and most grateful for the constant support of the more than 600 volunteers who contribute to the success of the chapter's programs.

While insect pests destroy about 30 percent of the world's food supply each year, the World Health Organization estimates that 4½ million human deaths are caused by starvation annually.

The Spring season has blossomed at WJHS with a number of successful events.

The annual drama production was staged on March 25 and 26 to enthusiastic audiences. The play chosen was "The Mousetrap" by Agatha Christie. The talented cast were as follows: Susan Sohler, Harris Levinson, Carole Balin, Joyce Normandin, Andrew Parthum, Sheryl Brandt, Carol Beninati, and John Holmy. The faculty director was Mrs. Porter and the student assistant was Jean Dunlavy. Helping out on audio-visual effects were Bert Liang, John Kemp, Brian Sherman, Reid Merrill, and Carol Kalil.

Just recently, the popular Science Fair was held in the cafeteria. Seventh and eighth graders presented their science projects, done as independent research experiments by the students. Many of these projects were working demonstrations in the field of physics, chemistry, and biology. Mr. Jamkochian, head of the Science Dept., was in charge of this event.

In the sports field the Faculty - Student Basketball Game topped the list of fun activities. The first game found the men faculty pitted against our talented freshman team. In spite of some brilliant playing by the boys, the faculty huffed and puffed their way to a 55-49 victory. In the second game played, the girls basketball team had a chance to get even and won their game in a closely fought contest. Final record: Faculty 1 - Students 1.

Last but not least, among the early Spring activities was the Editors Exchange Day. During these exchange days, the editors of both junior high newspapers are given the opportunity to visit and participate in the classes of their hosts. This offers the chance to compare the likenesses and differences of both junior highs and at the same time promotes good will and friendship between the two schools.

Participating in this exchange were Katy Gannon and Polly Whitley from West Junior High and Lucy Niedzwicki and Renee Pruneau from East Junior High. The editors from West would like to thank the editors, administration, faculty, and students of East for a most enjoyable day.

Cherry Sheets

bursements. Of the remaining $900,000 which is due Andover, Andover may get $425,000 this year, and Maguire said he is "extremely optimistic" there will be considerably more.

In any case, Ahouse said, the picture is "considerably rosier" than it was a few weeks ago when the cherry figures were released.

Nevertheless, the funds not forthcoming will have a tremendous impact on next year's budget which will be facing Town Meeting in May and the committee voted Tuesday to consider deferring some of the maintenance and salary allocations at next week's meeting.

Ahouse said the budget passed by the previous school committee did allow for a considerable increase in maintenance, in line with a long-range maintenance plan. There is the possibility that this could be deferred to the fall town meeting when the financial picture will be more clear he said.

He added that he did not intend for this maintenance to be "deferred and deferred and deferred."

He also noted that the budget passed was just sufficient to maintain the programs offered last year, and included no new teachers. It did not, however, take into consideration any reduction in the elementary force by decreasing enrollments. This could amount to four or five teachers, he said.

Committeeman Joseph Finn said he was willing to stand in back of the budget figures the committee originally came up with, and that to reopen discussions might raise a cloud of doubt about the process of the past months. There are no areas, he said, we can justify chopping off entirely.

Casimir Kolaski said he felt confident with the budget as it stands, and would hate to get into the position of gambling on deferment. It was put together basically as an austerity budget, he noted.

Committeeman Elaine Viehmann said she believes this is a true austerity budget. "But when the income is lower, the income is lower," she said, and added that she would be "very much in favor" of deferring a portion of the maintenance and perhaps of a portion of salaries.

"It would be appropriate to take action that's going to relieve the town of some of the burden placed on it by the state," she said.

The administration was directed to report back Tuesday on the effects of a reduction of $50,000 or $75,000 in the maintenance budget, and of a reduction of elementary school staffs.

In the "plus" column, the committee added to the budget

$55,000 which will be forthcoming from Public Law 874, bringing the final expense portion of the budget down to $2,102,750.

PL 874 is a federal law which contributes to an area impacted by federal installations of some sort. Andover's aide comes because of the IRS installation here. The town is reimbursed for youngsters of employees of that installation who are identified by surveys sent out by the schools.

The problem, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert noted, is with citizens responding. Andover doesn't get its full PL 874 entitlement, he said, because some parents don't bother to return the surveys. Each positive response, he said, is worth some $350.

Education Funding Challenges

By unanimous vote of its executive board, the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns (MLCT) has pledged to support and coordinate a court suit challenging the constitutionality of the state's funding of public education.

The case will be similar to one filed in New Jersey which resulted in a radical change in the state's financing of education, and to other such suits filed in California and Texas. The MLCT, which represents 221 cities and towns in the state, will appoint a steering committee of seven local officials to choose an attorney, file the suit and invite cities and towns across the state to become parties to the court action.

"We have tried for years to get a real overhaul of the whole tax structure of Massachusetts," Mayor Raymond Macomber of Attleboro said. "But it is now clear that nothing like that is going to come out of this session of the legislature or the next session." The court case would be one part of a two-pronged effort made by the Municipal Associations this year to relieve the property tax load in cities and towns, Macomber said.

A coalition of municipal and educational groups has been formed to press the legislature for additional funding of general education, which is down by $85 million in last week's cherry sheets, but "a long term solution has to be based on serious reform of the method of financing education," City Manager James Sullivan of Cambridge stated.

The action was taken at the MLCT Board Meeting held on March 24 in Framingham on a proposal made by a group of mayors and City Manager Sullivan. Mayor Macomber and Sullivan were joined by Mayor Benjamin Friedman of Taunton and Mayor John Markey of New Bedford in urging the League Board to support the court challenge.

It is expected to take two years for the suit to reach the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court and it may have to be taken to the Supreme Court for final decision, the officials noted, calling this "the necessary long term investment for a long term solution to the inequities of funding education in Massachusetts."

The continued erosion of the funds in the general education local aid account, which are being siphoned off to pay for Chapter 766 Special Education, "has long been a concern to local officials", Macomber concluded. "This year's major losses in local aid suffered by every community in the state are only the latest indication of how badly the entire system needs to be restructured."

Limeys Ate Lemons

Citrus fruits proved to be lifesavers for early sailors. Before 1795, hundreds died from scurvy during long sea voyages. The British Navy solved the problem by adding limes and lemons to sailors' diets. That's how English sailors got the nickname "Limeys."

mayors and City Manager Sullivan. Mayor Macomber and Sullivan were joined by Mayor Benjamin Friedman of Taunton and Mayor John Markey of New Bedford in urging the League Board to support the court challenge.

It is expected to take two years for the suit to reach the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court and it may have to be taken to the Supreme Court for final decision, the officials noted, calling this "the necessary long term investment for a long term solution to the inequities of funding education in Massachusetts."

The continued erosion of the funds in the general education local aid account, which are being siphoned off to pay for Chapter 766 Special Education, "has long been a concern to local officials", Macomber concluded. "This year's major losses in local aid suffered by every community in the state are only the latest indication of how badly the entire system needs to be restructured."

Limeys Ate Lemons

Citrus fruits proved to be lifesavers for early sailors. Before 1795, hundreds died from scurvy during long sea voyages. The British Navy solved the problem by adding limes and lemons to sailors' diets. That's how English sailors got the nickname "Limeys."

Return Of Salmon Workshop Subject

The Merrimack River has historically provided water power and served as a receptacle for industrial wastes from Massachusetts and New Hampshire cities. But in pre-industrial America this fourth largest of New England's watersheds was the home of thousands of Atlantic salmon, American shad and other anadromous, or sea run, fish. Indians and early settlers alike both fished at such favorite places as the base of the Amoskeag Falls.

Because of extensive pollution clean-up programs, coupled with the dedicated work of state and federal fisheries biologists and the concern of conservationists, the day is drawing nearer when the Merrimack River watershed will once again support these fish which will become a symbol of the river's improving water quality.

Eight area sportsmen's clubs, the U. of Lowell, Lowell Central Labor Council, and the International Atlantic Salmon Foundation are offering Merrimack River valley residents the opportunity to participate in a free public workshop on the plans to return Atlantic salmon and American shad to their river on Saturday, April 9. The session begins at 1 p.m. in Lecture Room 1, Weed Hall, at the U. of Lowell off Broadway St. in Lowell, Mass.

Besides giving the state and federal fisheries biologists a chance to review the restoration progress to date and field questions, the sponsors are hoping to ensure the expedient construction of new fishways at the Essex dam in Lawrence, and Pawtucket dam in Lowell, Mass. Existing fishways at these two dams are poorly designed antiquated relics from fisheries restoration efforts of 100 years ago, and couldn't pass the planned run of 11,000 Atlantic salmon and 1 million shad now scheduled by the biologists.

Peter Oatis, chief aquatic biologist with the Mass. Div. of Fisheries and Wildlife, who is also the chairman of the Merrimack River technical fisheries restoration committee, will present the history and ecology of the river as well as an overview of the combined 5-year restoration plan. One of the reasons that area conservationists believe that the Merrimack's anadromous runs can be restored is because it has been done once before!

Historically, Atlantic salmon spawned as far upstream as the headwaters of the Pemigewasset River in northern New Hampshire, and spawning shad reached Lake Winnepesaukee. But sea run Atlantic salmon were eliminated from the Merrimack River by 1859 with the construction of the Essex and Pawtucket dams, although remnant runs of shad continued.

Y Begins Campaign To Remove Mortgage

Robert A. Watters will be chairman of the spring campaign to obtain capital funds to eliminate the mortgage with which the Andover-North Andover YMCA has been burdened since the original campaign fell short of its goal in 1972.

Douglas N. Howe, Sr., president of the Andover-North Andover Y, announced the appointment of Watters.

In the face of rapidly rising costs, it was decided in 1972 to go ahead with planned construction with the help of a mortgage. The family type Y opened in 1974 and has experienced phenomenal growth. The second year of operation closed with an active membership of 5,134. Although unable to cover mortgage costs the YMCA has otherwise been in the black over the past two years, and it is anticipated that elimination of the mortgage would leave the local association in a sound financial position. The planned campaign and the goal of $600,000 have been approved by the Merrimack

Robert M. Henderson

Valley United Fund of which the suburban branch of the Greater Lawrence YMCA is an member agency.

The advance gifts portion of the campaign will start at once and, following recruitment of several hundred solicitors, the general campaign will get under way late this month. YMCA members, friends of the organization, and others interested will be asked for tax deductible contributions.

Robert M. Henderson, who served as general chairman of the original Building Fund Campaign five years ago, will also head this effort to "finish the job."

His associates will include vice-chairpeople Herbert W. Gray and Margaret M. Thompson. Robert J. Corcoran Co. of Boston will serve as campaign counsel. Others on the campaign Executive Committee, which has been planning over several months, include: Philip K. Allen, Edward B. Bruce, Richard P. Cate, Joseph L. Daly, Fred H. Harrison, Douglas N. Howe, Sr., Robert A. Magg, Ben Perrone, Horace N. Stevens, Jr., Mrs. Edward W. Stupack, Charles W. Trombly, Sr., Robert A. Watters, Dean Webster and Alexander M. Wilson.

Jessica Cotton Is 4-H Winner

Jessica Cotton, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Costanzo and Dr. Richard Cotton of Boston, was selected as a finalist from Essex County in 4-H demonstration.

The qualifying contest was held March 5 at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute in Hathorne. Jessica will now compete in the Eastern Massachusetts Demonstration Day in Bolton on April 16.

Jessica is a member of the Andover Boots & Saddles 4-H Club and lives on Haggetts Pond Road, Andover.
